- ☐ Clean the syrup pumps and bottles:
 - a. Place the pitcher of hot water in the small sink up front.
 - b. Take ONE syrup bottle at a time and unscrew the pump. Pump any remaining flavor into the syrup bottle.
 - c. Once the pump is empty, take it and place the bottom into the hot water pitcher, pumping as many times as needed until it looks free of syrup.

 - e. Wipe the bottles with the rag until the syrup comes off the outside.
 - f. Place the bottle back in its position and repeat. Make sure to do all the thin and thick syrups, including those in the cold station. If we have a lot of thick syrup pumps, you can replace the pumps entirely rather than clean them. These tend to keep residue and are more challenging to clean thoroughly, so replace the pumps if possible.
- ☐ Clean the counter underneath the racks
- ☐ Clean the left side of the right espresso machine
- ☐ Clean the wall to the right of the drive-thru window

The syrup can be hard to clean, but if you use the hot water from the brewer, you can remove the syrup easily!

You will need to clean this after the other spoons are cleaned and the drip drain is put back together.

4. Soak the green scrubby pad with water, and using a tiny amount of soft scrub, begin scrubbing the inner bucket and each spoon. Rinse with the soapy water, then clean water, then bleach water.
5. Leave it on the dish rack to dry, and take the soft scrub and green scrubby pad to the front.

9. Clean the final spoon that the drink maker had been using.

Be sure to rinse soft scrub thoroughly. You'll know you missed a spot because soft scrub will leave a white, dusty residue when not rinsed properly!

There are four coffee pots to clean, so please repeat the steps below for all pots. Be sure you have at least two out at a time for brewing coffee.

1. Dump out any existing water or leftover coffee from the coffee pot. Rinse it well TWICE.
2. Put a cleaning tablet into the empty pot and place it under the brewer.

4. Once the brewer finishes and you have a pot full of hot cleaning tablet water, put the coffee lid back on.
5. Wait one hour! To keep track of this, write a sticky note and place it on the pot with the current time or one hour in the future, whichever you prefer.
6. Once the hour has passed, move the pot by the sink and open the top as if you were to pump coffee. Pump the water out into the sink until it runs clear.
7. Remove the lid, and with a bleach rag, wipe down:
 - ☐ The top

 - ☐ The bottom

8. Remove the pumping piece in the coffee pot and scrub the metal stem and black top with a green scrubby pad and some dish soap. Make sure there is no coffee residue.

 - ☐ The walls of the coffee pot
 - ☐ Around the top inner rings where the pumping piece sits
 - ☐ Around the top black base
11. Use the green scrubby pad and a small amount of soft scrub to scrub the outside of the coffee pot. Focus near the top where the stainless steel meets the black plastic. There WILL be coffee buildup here that may require some elbow grease.
12. After scrubbing, dump out the water.
13. Fill it back up with clean water and then dump the water. Repeat this step twice for a total of three fills and dumps.
14. If the coffee pot won't be used, fill it with hot water, put the lid on, and place it behind the other pots on the counter. Flip the handle over the lid to indicate there is no coffee in the pot.
